*F*airfield County Home Magazine presents the Kinderwood Showhouse, a collaboration of talent drawn together to utilize their talent for the benefit of Green Chimneys. Proceeds from the event, which ran through October 23, 2005, will benefit the Good Friend Program of Green Chimneys. "Green Chimneys is nationally recognized for utilizing animal therapy to cure emotionally injured children" (Green Chimneys 2005).

The Showhouse, a Nantucket style carriage house on West Mountain Road in Ridgefield, featured outfitting by some of the regions most renowned architects, designers, and contractors. During the open house, thousands toured the house and saw "first-hand" the talent and expertise of nationally acclaimed firms.

We share with you the culmination of these efforts in its entirety to inspire you throughout the winter season.

FAMILY ROOM

The design philosophy for the family room was to create a peaceful but striking haven which functions well for a busy family. The room's color scheme takes its cue from the autumn hills and sky. The blue Venetian plaster wall finish enhances the family's collection of landscape paintings, while the night sky mural is a reminder of their annual camping adventures spent under the stars. This family enjoys the finer things, as evidenced by the collection of handcrafted heir loom furniture and oil paintings. The custom rug, window treatments, pillows and upholstered pieces give the room its sense of warmth and comfort.
